

Transition

If you've reached this lesson then I'm assuming that you've read the previous lessons and are very interested in knowing more about what our Abba Father is really like. This is a subject that I've studied for many years and had looked forward to doing many lessons. However, I've learned that it's more important for us, as Abba Father's children, to experience Him than fill our heads with knowledge about what he is like. Experience is much more important than head knowledge of his attributes and character.

After posting the last lesson almost 6 years ago the desire to continue was removed and although I tried there just wasn't grace to do it, and then something new began to develop. Consequently I'm transitioning to another subject, "Experiencing the Godhead". It's been the focus of my study the past 6 years but I hadn't sensed a release to publish a lesson until just recently after the Father set me up in a unusual situation. You will learn more about my journey in the first lesson.

My prayer for you is that 2020 will be filled with many encounters and experiences with each person of the Godhead: Abba Father, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit. The first lesson begins with the belated devotional I wrote for Christmas 2019 and New Year 2020. You will find it much different than any Christmas devotional you've ever read before. The devotional is posted on our download page under the heading of "Experiencing the Godhead". It will be the first of many lessons to come.
